Enhanced Settings Module – Special Download Package

What's This? – Clickable Help Text
I've added clickable help text labeled "What's This?" in red above a few of the settings on the latest version of the Enhanced Settings Module. As the text itself implies, if you want to know what the setting does: Click the "What's This?" label and you will be presented with a help message explaining what the setting does.

Bug Fix
Description of bug: I managed to write a bug into the Enhanced Settings Module that was shipped with the 5/30/2012 new program update. The bug impacts the following JCapper user types only – those of you who are attempting to use the module to save your very first Enhanced Settings change (any setting) to the UserSysDefs table in the c:\2004\JCapper.mdb file. The bug shows itself in the form of an annoying error message the very first time the Save button is clicked.

When I tested the Enhanced Settings Module shipped with the 5/30/2012 new program update I didn't catch this because I had already made hundreds of settings changes to my current UserSysDefs table (and it never occurred to me to test the new module using an empty table.)

I spent some time this evening working on a bug fix and have a working Enhanced Settings Module at my end. I'm happy to report that the issue (and the ensuing error message) appears to have been solved. I'm going to spend a little more time testing it – and will include a revised Enhanced Settings Module as part of the next full JCapper new program update that I publish.

Enhanced Settings Module Special Download Package
For those of you affected by the bug who don't feel like waiting for me to get around to publishing a full JCapper new program update, I've created a special download package that contains a revised Enhanced Settings Module Only (one that has the bug fixed of course.)

Here's a download link:
http://www.jcapper.com/platinum/enhancedsettingsonly.exe

Install Instructions:

1. Close down all open JCapper program windows.

2. Save the download package file (filename: EnhancedSettingsOnly.exe) to your hard drive. (Hint: c:\JCapperBuild is a good location.)

3. Double click the download package file (filename: EnhancedSettingsOnly.exe) to run the extractor. The extractor will copy the .exe file for the Enhanced Settings Module to your c:\JCapper\Exe folder, overwriting the existing .exe file for the module, and then on most machines, will launch the Enhanced Settings Module.

That's It! There's nothing else to install – and no import routines to be run. After performing the above install you sould be able to use the Enhanced Settings Module to make that very first settings change.
